

Drawing Landscapes

Here's all the information readers need to render landscapes with confidence and skill in a variety of media, including pen and ink, graphite pencil, charcoal, colored pencil, water-soluble pencil and more. Easy-to-follow instructions show them how to master each kind of landscape, including hills and mountains, woodlands, wide open plains, moorlands and even water scenes. Also included are simple practice exercises designed to help artists master specific aspects of drawing landscapes, from smudging graphite powder to create the impression of a swirling, stormy sky to using pen and ink to capture fine detail. The book ends with a series of detailed step-by-step projects that bring together a number of diverse techniques and subjects in one drawing. Melvyn Petterson studied at Camberwell School of Art and Crafts. An established artist and print-maker, he teaches drawing and printmaking in both the U.S. and the U.K.
