You're engaged Congratulations! Now the fun part really begins planning one of the most important days of your life. Ok so planning a budget might not sound like a way to cut out stress, but trust me it definitely helps! The subject of money can be stressful; particularly when it comes to deciding what you can and can't spend on your big day. You obviously want it to be the best day of your life. However, you don't have to blow the bank to do that.

There's a common misconception amongst couples that you have to spend thousands of pounds to have the most memorable day. In reality all you need is you, your partner, a few guests and just a few special touches to set the scene. Everything else is meaningless when you look at the grand scheme of things. So if you have a small budget, don't worry! It's possible to make the day perfect no matter what size budget you have. So stop stressing, get out a paper and pen (or load up a word document if you're doing it the modern way) and start being realistic about what you can and cannot afford.
