

Arbitration Road Map: A Guide to Clauses, Proceedings, and Hearings

Arbitration is a popular dispute resolution process because it offers the litigants flexibility, control, potential for significant cost savings, and finality. Typically, arbitration will include some practices that are similar to court adjudication, but in most instances, the process eliminates the extensive discovery, formality, and technicalities of courtroom procedures. The Arbitration Road Map will guide you through the arbitration process for both domestic and international disputes. The journey begins with strategies for drafting the arbitration clause and ends with enforcing the award. Stops along the way include the substantive and procedural law of arbitration, arbitrator selection, and the hearing process.
