

A-level, BTEC and First Degree Computing

A text designed to cover the Advanced Level Computing syllabuses of the major examining boards. It is also suitable for students of first year BTEC HNC/HND courses in computing, and part 1 of the British Computer Society exam. Examination practice is provided through a range of examination questions selected from a number of major examining boards. A Tutors Manual, containing suggested solutions, is available for centres which adopt the book.
