

Detective John Saunders Collection

Detective John Saunders Collection: The year is 1946 and the war is over, or so the government would have you think. There's a different kind of war going on through the streets of West Hollywood, and it's one detective's job to make sure that those responsible for crimes against humanity are brought to justice. At least, that's what the jobs supposed to be. The reality is a police force where half are inept and the other half are on the mob's payroll. It's these hurdles that John Saunders must overcome if he wants to keep his city from falling apart at the seams.

Erotica Noire: Detective John Saunders has been on the police force almost twenty years now. He's a drunk, a loudmouth, and a womanizer, but he's also the best damned detective in the city. When a young Spanish immigrant is murdered, John's life becomes a whirlwind of passion and intrigue. This short story is about sex, drugs and guns and they all kill.

Mind the Gap: Be mindful of the gap, detective. That's the last thing Detective John Saunders remembered before he was beaten in the parking lot of West Hollywood University. He couldn't help but think of the events that had brought him to this particular point. Her name was Cindy Faulk, a nineteen year old freshman, and she was attacked in her classroom. With no clear suspects, John must broaden his scope if he hopes to find the men responsible, before they strike again.

Shooting Blanks: A midnight bank heist goes wrong and Detective John Saunders finds himself caught in the middle of a shootout between the police and the mob-run bank owners. It's up to him to grab the lone female burglar before the mob finds them all responsible. John's going to need all his strength for this one, because he won't be able to hold any punches if he wants to catch the troublesome burglar in time. This short story is all about what we want, what we need, and what we just can't have.

Strip Show: It was yet another cold and dreary

night in West Hollywood as Detective John Saunders finds himself under the shelter of the Foxy Lady Gentlemens Club. Here, he would find that he was missing something he never even knew he needed. Unfortunately, it also comes attached with boundless baggage and two intimidating gangster bodyguards. Its up to John to manage to find a way out of the mess hes landed in, before both the mob and his desires catch up with him. This time, its not the job that might get him killed its his own libido. Temper Tantrum: Afterhours protection has never been Johns specialty, often more content to be running through the alleyways in pursuit of a suspect or a hot lead. The pay soon changes his mind, and when a hotshot movie stars daughter needs his assistance, he learns that sometimes the pay just isnt worth it. Our detectives been on an emotional and physical rollercoaster these last few weeks, and before he can see the light at the end of the tunnel, he needs to hit rock bottom. Only there he feels most comfortable. Only there he feels at home. Every man and woman is capable of a losing their temper, but its what we do with that temper that defines us and Johns going to find that the hardest thing is keeping it under control. Winning Hand: No one likes a long shot like a gambler; and thats exactly what Detective John Saunders hoping on a long shot. One hundred thousand dollars are on the line in a high stakes poker game, and Johns found himself in the final two. Its enough for either an early retirement or a quick grave. Thats if the rest of the denizens of the underground casino have their way. Johns in a situation unlike as hes ever faced before, and if he wants to make it through the night with his stacks of money intact, he needs to keep his wits about him and his manhood lodged firmly in his pants. Pokers called a thinking mans game, but the real thinker is the one that manages to survive a hundred thousand dollar bounty. Word Count: 30,999
