

To jail by order

People in possession of economic and media power breached the frontier of legality in order to carry out obscure plans, such as the case presented in this book, in which a competent health professional was reported without any basis in order to have him sent to prison and to eliminate him from the accusers area of work in which he came into direct competition with them. The connivers therefore managed to bring Magistrates of the Courts of Justice to the verge of breaching laws and morality, by forcing them to ignore their very status and to prevaricate in order to convict an innocent citizen. Similarly, shameless professionals of communication turned into mercenaries successfully used defamations against the victim in order to ensure that the deplorable project would be seen through to the end.
