

I Dont Care if My Sasquatch Lover Says the World is Exploding, Shes Hot But I Play Bass and Theres Nothing Hotter Right Now Than Rap-Rock (...Because Its the New Millennium Book 2)

The adventure continues! Here it is, the long-awaited sequel to Lacey Noonans hit: I Dont Care if My Best Friends Mom is a Sasquatch, Shes Hot and Im Taking a Shower With Her (...Because Its the New Millennium). After narrowly escaping with their lives from the Lemaire family, Jason and Starla are now in a race against time to find the rendezvous point that will get them to Starlas homeland. Why? Because Earth is about to blow the hell up, thats why! Which doesnt keep our two sweethearts, of course, from stopping every forty-five minutes to make sweet, crypto-zoological love in any pond, pool or river they can find. The fresh air, the free love, the freedom of their Japanese crotch rocket vibrating beneath them... Its a hell of a way to travel. But something isnt right. Jason is beginning to suspect Starla doesnt actually know where shes going. Its obvious shes hiding something from him. And then one fateful night just as theyre about to make contact with her people in a weird yet sensual symbiosis of sound at the top of a pine tree their lives are forever changed... Because thats when Jason abruptly joins 311, currently on tour with the Lilith Fair. The Rap-Rock genre has always called to Jason. It aligns with his wild-man tendencies. Its everything hes ever dreamed of. But now he must choose between Starla and his Rock & Roll career! WHY? Why cant he have both? Why is it either Starlas way (which involves a lot of driving on the highway) or the highway? Whats going on? Is it the new millennium or not? Is Jasons wildness getting out of control? Dangerous, even? Is there anything else to eat besides squirrels? Why does Radioheads new album Kid A sound like evil computers sucking down gigabytes of whale dong? These questions and a sensitive portrait of what life was like at the dawn of the 21st century will leave you haunted, delighted and panting for more. Full of the acrobatic writing-style
