

Office Quickie (paranormal erotica, m/f) (The XXX Files Book 1)

Part 1 of the XXX Files Jack and Sheila are business partners who banter about all day. Theyre also lovers, and while that may complicate things, whats more complicated is the business theyre in: paranormal investigations. Like everyone else, they began as skeptics, thinking it was a good way to make money after college in a down economy. What they uncovered in their investigations, though, is enough to fill an entire vault with bottled up demons, ghosts, and monsters even scarier than that. In fact, that vault is right behind their office. After an early morning spent chasing down a particularly energetic and moody ghost, the two heads of Paranormal Investigations, Inc relax at the office - nothing gets the juices flowing like capturing supernatural creatures! On the horizon, though, is an evil that could tear them, and the world, apart! EXCERPT: We got it, didnt we? Sheila waved a hand at the glass jar Jack held with its tightly fitting metal lid. She flopped down on the couch crammed against the near wall and rubbed at her temples. It had been a long morning. Jack set the jar down on the closest shelf, for now. Yes, we got it. After improvising with the vacuum cleaner. Isnt that our specialty? she asked him with a quirky smile. Improvising? That brought a smile to his face. Especially remembering one tricky assignment where it had all come down to a bar of soap. Well, its certainly becoming that way. Maybe we should put it on our business cards? Beltran and Morningstar, professional improvisers. Not sure that would fit on there after Paranormal Investigators. Why didnt we pick a profession with a shorter name? What, like dogcatcher? They looked at each other for the space of a heartbeat, and then broke out laughing together. They had been in this business for five years now, ever since graduating college together and realizing there was real money to be made in one of the quirkiest niches out there: paranormal investigations. People always thought they heard voices in their old houses, or saw monsters in the closet, or thought they were being haunted by ghosts, or whatever. And who was out there to investigate these terrifying things? No one, that's who. No one, except them. Jack Beltran and Sheila Morningstar, Paranormal Investigators. That had been the start of it. And now, five years later, they couldn't imagine doing anything else. Sheila was staring at him from her position on the couch. Come here, she said to him, waving her hand in the air. He did, taking off his black leather coat with its zippers and dangling straps as he approached her. He had explained to her over and over that every investigator had to have some signature piece of clothing. Columbo had his trench coat. The Men in Black had their dark suits. Dresden had his long duster. And Jack Beltran had his black leather coat. She thought he was being silly. But she couldn't deny he looked awesome in that coat. Enough so that she had asked him to wear nothing but the coat a number of times while she fucked him. Jack was just a hair over six foot tall, with thick dark hair and dark eyes to go with it, and a perpetual five o'clock shadow giving his chiseled features a rugged look. She was almost his opposite, not even reaching five-foot-nine, with long blonde hair and piercing blue eyes. She didn't wear anything as flashy as his coat, preferring to dress in comfortable if tight jeans and a t-shirt like she was now. Today the shirt read Who ya gonna call? WARNING: This 4300+ word paranormal erotic short story contains graphic consensual oral and vaginal seduction and sex between two sexy paranormal investigators, in an office full of locked up demons and monsters, punctuated by lighthearted ribbing and playful teasing.
