

Caught in the Middle: Helping Children to Cope with Separation and Divorce

The problem of children being seriously damaged - psychologically or materially - by the separation of their parents is a substantial one. One in four children will experience divorce before the age of 16. How much this disruption affects children is governed largely by the behaviour of the adults involved. In this accessible book Anne Charlsh encourages adults to become more attuned to the needs of their children and make them a priority during this painful time.
